FROM OUR SECRETARY

Brethren, with the month of December upon us, we look back on the calendar year coming to a close and look forward to the new Masonic year that is upon us, as evidenced by the installations of new Masters of the symbolic lodges and the installations of new District Deputy Grand Masters (DDGMs) for the 21st Masonic District. Be sure to extend congratulations and offer your support to RWBs Gust Goutras, Stephen A. Colton, and Michael Bailey as they join their efforts with those of RWB William R. Jones to promote the Grand Master's Program. Let's make sure that all of our symbolic and Grand Lodge officers have our total support as they assume their duties for another great Masonic year. Remember, without the blue lodges, there would be no Scottish Rite.

The month of November was another great month for the Valley of Canton. At our Stated Meeting on November 10, we took the opportunity to recognize the sacrifices made by our veterans to keep us safe and secure. A moving video presentation was preceded by a request by the Thrice Potent Master to have each and every veteran in the room stand up, identify himself and state his rank, military branch, and location and dates of service. We owe a debt to these brethren we can never repay. The Secretary read a communication from the mother of one member currently in the US Air Force serving in Afghanistan. That brother will be receiving Christmas greetings from many members of the Valley.

On Saturday, November 12, the many friends and admirers of Ill. James R. Filliez, 33°, Active Emeritus for Supreme Council, turned out for a multimedia gala event celebrating Jim's 40 years of service to Freemasonry and honoring his determined efforts and extraordinary vision which have made the Valley of Canton one of the premiere valleys in the Northern Masonic Jurisdiction. Stories were told, jokes were delivered, and presentations were made while all present enjoyed a delicious dinner and the camaraderie for which our Valley is known. The Sovereign Grand Commander, Ill. John W. McNaughton, 33°, thanked Ill. Bro. Filliez for all of his efforts to implement the ICE concept, and the evening was replete with both prerecorded comments and testimonials from individuals present in the room evidencing Jim Filliez' tireless dedication to the Craft. It was a great evening that afforded many of us the opportunity to say "Thank You" to a man who has done so much for "The Fraternity of Choice."

On November 24, we celebrated Thanksgiving, a day when we ponder the things in life that are truly important and express our gratitude to our Divine Creator for the countless blessings he has bestowed.

MEMBERSHIP

Brethren, the holidays are fast approaching and these are busy times for all of us. Please take time and remember the reason for the Season and our Brothers that need assistance.

Our November meeting was attended by seven of our newest Scottish Rite Members. We were pleased to have all of them attend. It would be great to have all new members from the Fall Class and Spring Class attend the December 8, 2011 stated meeting and the dinner that precedes the meeting.

The Membership Committee is working hard on implementing new ideas for the upcoming new year, such as starting special interest clubs; car club, gun and hunting club, electronics and computer club and health and wellness club. If anyone has ideas pertaining to the formation of any other club they would like, please let the Membership Committee know. We will gladly listen to any and all ideas.

One of our Brethren is serving his Country and has just been deployed to Afghanistan. It would be great to show our support by sending him a Christmas card.

His name and address are :

In closing, the Membership Committee would like to wish everyone a safe and Happy Holiday Season.

We now look confidently to the opportunities the month of December brings and the challenges facing us in the new year. Be sure to join us for our Quarterly Stated Meeting at 7:30PM on Thursday, December 8, preceded by a delicious dinner at 6:30PM( reservations required).

In this joyous season, remember to count your blessings and support this great fraternity.

Happy Holidays!

Inside An Indians TV Broadcast

Don't look now, but by the date of our next Stated Meeting, there will be less than 70 days until pitchers and catchers report to Spring Training! To help you forget about the 3 months of snow ahead of us, Steve Warren will take us behind the scenes of an Indians TV broadcast as presented by Sports Time Ohio, the television home of the Indians. Somehow, Steve has figured out how to watch sports on TV and get paid while doing it. With over 30 years in the sports television industry, Steve is a veteran of Super Bowl, World Series, Olympics and NBA playoff broadcasts and has been with Sports Time Ohio since the network was created in 2006. He has an exciting video presentation to share with us about how STO puts an Indians broadcast on the air (and can probably answer your questions about anything else Sports-TV related). Don't miss it – following the December Stated Meeting!

He also called Tyson's friend, Holly Giauque, to come up also. Tyson then went on his knee and proposed to Holly! SHE SAID YES!!!

Membership Incentive Program

The Membership Committee is constantly looking at ways to reward you for continuing your membership in the Greatest Fraternity in the world. Of course, we also need to constantly work on replacing those who have been called to the Grand Architect of the Universe. Here is a program that addresses both of these areas.

This year's incentive program will end with the Fall Reunion. If you are the top line signer on FOUR petitions for this year, you will be awarded one year of paid up dues. If you sign up SEVEN candidates this year, you will be awarded two years of paid up dues. If you are the top line signer on TEN petitions for this year, you will receive a life membership in the Valley of Canton.

The candidate totals are for one calendar year only. The candidate must attend and complete the full reunion schedule for the top line signer to be eligible for the appropriate award.

I know we are all proud of our membership in this fraternity. Sometimes we need a little extra incentive to encourage a brother mason to join the Scottish Rite. This program could be just what you have been looking for; a reminder to ask someone to join, and an opportunity to get something in return. All you have to do is ask.

Caldwell Lodge Holds Muskrat Dinner Meeting

Brethren: YES! It's that time of the year once again, so mark your calendar for January 7, 2012. This is the date for the annual "Muskrat Dinner Meeting"

at Caldwell Lodge 330 in Bolivar, Ohio

Lodge will open at 6:30 PM, and it's reported that the Grand Master, Most Worshipful Brother Kevin B. Todd and other Grand Lodge Officers will be in attendance.

For those brethren who have never experienced this dinner, you are in for a real treat as you experience it for the first time. If you have been there before, you can have fun and relive that first time experience again.

As usual, this evening promises to be a very memorable night with a lot of fun and friendship in an informal setting. The memories of the night will stay with you at least until you reach your car in the parking lot.

Honestly, you will have a great time so plan on attending. We hope to see you there.

EXPLANATION CONCERNING DUES NOTICES

Brethren, this is the time of year when dues notices are mailed from Supreme Council in Lexington, Massachusetts, and you may have questions concerning the format of the dues statement and will undoubtedly note the increase in total dues from last year.

Last year, annual dues totaled $58.00. The Valley of Canton portion of the dues amounted to $40.00, while the portion payable to Supreme Council was $18.00. For 2012, the members of the Valley of Canton approved an increase in annual Valley Dues to $55.00, while the portion of dues payable to Supreme Council, listed as "Assessment" on the dues statement, increased to $21.00, bringing the total amount of dues for 2012 up to $76.00. The brethren approved an annual dues increase, the first in approximately 30 years, to afford the Valley an opportunity to continue to provide inspirational, convenient, and enjoyable activities for the members while maintaining a viable financial position.

Similarly, increasing costs for Supreme Council to maintain its efforts to continue to provide services to the members, including assistance to members affected by tornadoes, hurricanes and floods throughout the Northern Masonic Jurisdiction, necessitated the increase in the Supreme Council Assessment.

Both the Valley of Canton and Supreme Council recognize that these are difficult economic times, and every effort is being made to reduce operating costs and develop cost saving initiatives to reduce financial burdens on the membership.

The continued support of our members is deeply appreciated.

Fraternally, Jim Fidler

Linda McKeivier

In 2010, I completed my initial training as an Orton-Gillingham tutor. My only regret is that I did not have this valuable training at the beginning of my teaching career. I am very thankful to the staff at the Children's Dyslexia Center and the Valley of Canton for providing this service

I began teaching the hearing impaired in Canton City Schools after my graduation from Malone College, Cum Laude, with a B.A. degree in Spanish and Elementary Education. Then I continued graduate work at Kent State University in the education of the hearing impaired and early childhood education. I also completed classes for kindergarten certification at Malone College. I taught kindergarten and first grade at the former St. Paul School in Canton for eight years. For twenty-three years, I was a kindergarten teacher at SS. Phillip and James School in Canal Fulton. During this time, I completed course work at Walsh College to be certified as a reading specialist and studied science education through the SEEDS program with Ashland College. In 2000, I received the Golden Apple Award from the Diocese of Youngstown for excellence in education. and I was named to the Stark County All County Teaching Team in 2006.

In 2009, I retired and began training at the Children's Dyslexia Center. Besides working at the center, I volunteer as a reading tutor with Canton City Schools Adult Literacy Program and serve as a communion minister at my church.

My husband Larry and I share our home with my 21-year old granddaughter and two dogs. I have two sons and one stepson. We are a combined family. Together we have eight children, sixteen grandchildren and four great-grandchildren. I enjoy traveling, reading, gardening, and spending time with my family.

The dedication of Carol Jones and the staff at the Center is impressive. Tutors are carefully supervised and kept informed of new research and methods to help the children. Not only do they promote the education of tutors and students, but they also strive to provide a warm atmosphere with parties and activities for the children and their families. This helps the children understand that they are not alone with dyslexia, and that they are accepted by a network of caring supervisors, parents, tutors and fellow students.

Collin Carrick

Collin Carrick is 12 years old and in the 7th Grade. He loves to play soccer. He is involved in Boy Scouts where he just earned his Star Rank. He enjoys making videos and uploading them to YouTube. Collin has always been very creative and likes inventing new things. Collin is homeschooled and has two brothers, Chase and Connor.

We first noticed Collin had reading issues in second grade. When the teacher would read the tests to him, he was able to get all A's. But when she stopped reading the tests to him, he would fail them. The school system said he had to fail a year and be held behind before they would test him for learning disabilities. As parents, this was unacceptable to us, so we had him (and his brothers) tested privately. After the diagnosis, the therapist recommended the Masonic Learning Center. We got on the waiting list immediately. As it happens, his brother Connor also has dyslexia, since it can be genetic. Connor is also a student at the Masonic Learning Center.

This is his second year of tutoring at the Center. He enjoys his teachers and works hard. His reading is now on grade level, and his spelling has improved tremendously. He rarely misses a word on his tests. He has been homeschooled since third grade and has not had to be held back. His reading comprehension scores are in the high school range. Collin would do great if he decided to go back to school, but now his choice is to be homeschooled. It has been an excellent lifestyle choice for us. We have traveled extensively and Collin has been to many different countries. [If you happen to see him, ask him about swimming with the stingrays or zip-lining in Honduras!]

What Does Volunteering Have To Do With Job Search?

By Monica Rose Gwin

The Employment Source

“The answer to that question is everything,” says Amy Miller, Resource Source Center Manager for The Employment Source.

“Volunteering is a great way to keep your skills up, learn new skills and make connections while you are unemployed. Doing volunteer work keeps you active, prevents gaps in your resume and provides much needed help to the organization you are volunteering with,” states Miller.

According to Miller, volunteering gives you the opportunity to learn new skills. While any organization will ask how you want to help, you can take the opportunity to be open to what they need. You may be asked to do something you have never done before. This will give you skills you can translate into employment. You may, for example, help organize fundraising, supervise individuals with barriers or plan community tips for clients. No matter what you are doing as a volunteer, it is a valuable experience.

Volunteering is a great opportunity to network and develop contacts that can serve as a reference for you in your job search. You are working with many individuals who have ties to other businesses. By demonstrating your professionalism and great work ethic in a volunteer setting you are making networking connections to people who may assist you in getting work or learning about job opportunities.

In addition, volunteer work can be added to your resume, but you should not put it under your work experience section. You should put it under a category such as “other relevant experience”. By doing volunteer work, it shows a hiring manager that you are motivated to stay active. It is very normal for an employer to see a break in employment and ask what you did during that time. Having spent time giving back to the community through volunteering makes a great impression.

“Remember, volunteering enables you to give back to the community plus it is a great opportunity to learn skills that help you as you transition from one career field to another,” concludes Miller. “It is worth it to be a volunteer!”

Brethren, this is a special time of the year for all to be with family, but unfortunately there are those men and women who cannot be with their families. They are away protecting our freedom. We should not forget those serving our Country. It would be great to show our support by sending them a Christmas card.

SHAWSHANK REJECTION

On Saturday, November 5, 2011, we had the pleasure of attending a Murder Mystery Dinner at the Tadmor Temple for the benefit of the Canton and Akron Learning Centers for Dyslexia. The name of the production was Shawshank Rejection.

Our mystery takes place in the executive dining hall of the Shotshank Unified Correctional Institution (S.U.C.I.). We were the guest of the employees and inmates of this institution. The employees are very proud of the advances they have made in rehabilitating criminals into useful members of society and hope our tour of their facility has been enlightening and has made a good impression.

However during our dinner, we became hostages during a takeover of the prison by some of the inmates who were trying to break out. It was touch and go for awhile, but everyone in attendance enjoyed a very good meal and a night of good fun entertainment.

The Cast of Characters are:

Dave Griffith	Warden Warren Winston Warner
Leland Pettis	Red Raw (Guard)
Andrew Knode	Wes Virginia (Inmate)
Todd Kotler	Earl "Slick" Ocean (Inmate)
Kelley Edington	Denise DeNephew (Tour Guide)
Deborah Griffith	Hattie Purst (An old girl friend)

Saving the Temple Part III

The lapse of time, the ruthless hand of ignorance, and devastation of war have laid waste and destroyed many valuable monuments of antiquity on which the utmost exertion genius have been employed. Brothers, this is as true today as it was 2,000 years ago. Could you believe that the ruthless hand of ignorance would apply to you and me? Brothers, our building is part of this statement. However, if we start thinking and use our human genius, we will find that our building is crying out to deliver all the funds we need to live and prosper together. For those who wish to roam, we will celebrate your journey and will receive you when you return to the house our forefathers built.

This month's work brings me to reflect the feelings of an age and time preceding us by 200 years. When you think about 1926 and the great prosperity that was happening, you think of the optimism the Masonic family felt about the future. They raised over 100 candidates in 1924, and you start to feel the excitement, joy and goodness of the day. The lodge was, however, very divided. We owned the building Grants occupied, and many people felt secure.

There was a group of up-and-coming young men who believed Canton should have a world-class building. The young men were voted to the Masonic association board, and the work began on planning and building a new building. They bought the property where the library now sits. When all the ideas were in and drawings were beginning to be produced, they realized the property they had bought was too small to offer enough parking. So they traded that property for the property where we are now located. On the Walnut side of the property were many homes. Over the years, we had one home willed to us, and Scottish Rite purchased all the others for $1,500 each. All were torn down and replaced with parking lots. The building was constructed from 1924 to 1926 and the dedication was on Oct. 3, 1926. The first lodge in the new temple was opened in the old temple, and then the brothers had a parade from the old temple to the new temple, and they closed the lodge in the new temple.

During the Depression, the temple ran into financial trouble. In order to save the temple, Homer Black and Harter Bank devised a plan that every brother would buy three shares of stock for $100 a share. If you did not have the money, Harter Bank would loan it to you. As the Depression set in, the brethren couldn't pay dues let alone loan payments. Try to put yourself in these brothers' shoes to realize what the construction of this building meant to them. They had no money. $1 was worth 10 of today's dollars, and yet they built a building that cost $1.2 million in 1924. Most of the facts I have used came from Wor. Bro Earl Haefers' speech in the dining room in 1986. I am very thankful to Dennis Moriarty for the copy of the original program from the dedication ceremony. I am truly beginning to feel the spirits of our deceased brethren assisting this committee and participating in the saving of our temple. On the second page of the dedication booklet, there is a message to you and me and reads as follows “Therefore, when we build let us think that we build forever. Let it not be for the present delight or for the present use alone. Let it be such work as our descendants will thank us for, and let us think, as we lay stone upon stone, that a time is to come when these stones will be held sacred because our hands have touched them, and that men will say as they look upon the labor and the wrought substance of them, “See, This our fathers did for us.” Brothers, if you could take a minute and realize how many hours of wrought at payment of less than $2 an hour it took for our forefathers to provide us a building that cost $1.2 million. If we allow it to be destroyed, then you will see that it truly would be the ruthless hand of ignorance, performed by me and you.

My travels this month have taken me to visit the bodies in the temple. I being the Master of Canton 60, you know the feelings of our brethren at Canton 60. They have taken a leadership role to ensure success. Scottish Rite is the right arm of the drive and knows their future lies in the four walls of the temple if at all possible. McKinley Lodge has sent their best to the committee to lead and serve wherever needed. Trinity Lodge is represented on committees and leadership with time and money. The bodies of York Rite stand in the circle with well-experienced brothers’ time, leadership and support.

Here are the committees and brief overview of the committees that have been formed and are up, running, and starting to inform people how they will succeed. As they move along, I will give a success report, and as more come on board, I will report who they are. George German, Committee Chair, investigated the possibility of 501 C-3 tax status, work on recognition for those who contribute to Saving The Temple. Paul Feeser, Committee Chair, produces rental income from building. Clyde Vicors, Committee Chair, produces rental income from parking lot. Steve Morosko, Committee Chair, built and produces income from web site. Wes Weber, Committee Chair, plans and produces income from permanent recognition in the temple. Dave Newkirk and Wes Weber, Committee Chairs Blue Lodge membership drive, Reid McCloud, Committee Chair ,reduces overhead in building operation and maintenance. Dan Heaton Committee Chair, investigates all lodges in the tri-state area for fundraising ideas that can be adopted for our temple. Dave Miller, Johnny Jones, Gary Gerber, Roz Dennis Moriarty, and Ed Trego have come on board with great ideas and will be finalizing their committees. Brothers, what a great time to be a Mason as we unite and come together to revive the goals of our forefathers and give our future descendants a chance to have a secure home.

Brothers, this has become a great experience and, when we are completed, I want to be able to say you were part of saving the temple. Hopefully you will tell your children about it

. Please contact me or any committee member and say “ I want to help.” There is a job you will enjoy. If you cannot get out, there are jobs that can be handled at home, so don’t let that stop you. My email is a1ais@ssnet.com, that second letter in the email is a 1.
